

WAREHOUSE AGREEMENTS

WHAT IS A WAREHOUSE AGREEMENT?

A warehouse agreement is a contract for an outside company to manage your inventory of parts. This helps ensure the right stock levels, reducing the risk of production interruptions.

INVENTORY MANAGEMENT

Maintaining the right level of replacement parts like knives, blades, and wear parts is crucial for industrial operations. With a warehouse agreement, you can manage inventory more efficiently, cut costs, and avoid downtime.

BENEFITS

- Cost Savings: Take advantage of quantity discounts and price stability.
- Efficiency: Streamlined ordering with a single purchase order covering your needs.
- Uptime: With consistent access to inventory, production stays on track.

TYPES

- Blanket Purchase Orders: Fixed, ongoing supply at set prices.
- Order as Needed: Call in stock when you need it.
- Automatic Shipments: Regular deliveries on a schedule.
